

PUBLIC UTILITY VALUATION CONFERENCE
34th NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF
UNIT VALUATION STATES
Savannah, GA                      October 23 - 25, 2018

The 34th National Conference of Unit Valuation States will be conducted at the River Street Inn at 124 East Bay St in Savannah, GA, 31401 from October 23 - 25, 2018.

NCUVS is a self-sustaining organization and membership is restricted to state government employees in the public utility sector, either in the appraisal aspect or that of legal representation. It is of particular benefit to governmental employees involved in either the valuation, administration, rule-making, or legal process of public utility companies for ad valorem purposes. Participants from 41 states have attended.

This is an outstanding appraisal conference like none other. Participating states utilize the forum to discuss current events in the public utility property valuation field. Litigation issues are reviewed by the assembly and are discussed in detail by the state agency legal sections and attorney general staffs.

Founded in 1984, NCUVS purpose has focused on the unit valuation methodology for centrally valuing public utility properties. It also presents other appraisal approaches that may impact centrally assessed properties.

The agenda contains informative, timely subjects relevant to the public utility appraiser:

- appraisal methodology
- assessment administration
- policy-making, rules and regulation
- state legislative changes
- litigation updates
- upcoming training opportunities
- individual state reports given by conference participants
- other appraisal approaches that may impact centrally assessed properties

The conference registration fee is $150.00 per person. Please note that the conference does not accept debit, credit cards, or direct deposit
